KNOWSLEY PARENTS TOGETHER

Knowsley Parents Together believes that everyone has a right to be a parent. For some this is challenging.

Knowsley Parents Together supports parents with learning support needs to overcome the barriers they face.

Knowsley Parents Together is run by Knowsley Disability Concern. KDC is an independent charity that works with lots of organisations to support people. We are not part of social services.

Who do we work with?

We work with any parent or pregnant woman living in Knowsley, who faces barriers in their parenting role and has learning support needs.

We also work with other organisations who want to continue to develop their skills so that parents can be supported more effectively.

What do we do?

Parents Together Groups

We run local, friendly groups across Knowsley where parents can come together and share their experiences of the barriers they face as parents over a cup of tea. We find solutions and support each other.

Parents themselves decide what the group should talk about.

The Parents Together groups are held in Surestart Children's Centres in Halewood, Huyton, Kirkby and Whiston. There is an open invitation and everyone is welcome. Contact Vicki for information on days and times.

Links to advocacy

We work alongside KDC's Citizens Advocacy service and can arrange an independent person to help parents have their voices heard.

Training

We can provide training for parents to learn about how to support each other.

We can provide training that is tailored for particular organisations, for example, Peer Support, the Equality Act and Making Information Easy to Read.
