Speaking out in Merseyside

In January we ran the Merseyside by side conference at the Devonshire House Hotel.

The aim of the conference was to raise awareness of all of the projects working across Merseyside to tackle Hate Crime.

We asked everyone what they wanted to see happen next in the fight against Hate crime.

You told us

More patrols by police officers on the streets and outside schools

Talk to nightclub staff, doormen and shop staff work closer with social landlords to help us feel safer

Patrolled inspectors on public transport

'Streetwise, Street Safe' is an open day for people to come and talk about how we work together to make people with learning disabilities feel safe in their communities.
